To Whom It May Concern,

My Daughter Suffers from Chronic Back Pain

She cannot get the medicine she needs to be able to eat.

The guidelines have made doctors afraid to give out any opioids, even in pain clinics.

My daughter has a job she loves, but cannot keep it she is in severe pain and cannot work. She has tried everything to eat, but opioids are the only thing that lets her with pain. 5mm, a very small amount, but still can't get it. One doctor labeled her a drug seeker, when she is not, just to justify not giving her pain meds.

She could die without help. Losing weight because she cannot eat. People with this illness live day lives with pain control.

I'm sure this was not what was in mind,

pain patient not getting meds, when these guidelines started. The woman on opioids has turned into the woman on pain patients.

PLEASE. I AM BEGGING YOU.

I'm in tears as I write this.

Please help her and other patients

Don't let my daughter die!

Love Mom
